Specification of Competency Standards of the Beauty and Hairdressing Industry Unit of Competency

Functional Area: Hairstyle Design & Professional Techniques

Range This unit of competency (UoC) is applicable in salons. Practitioners should be able to help provide hair cutting and blow-drying service for customers under the instruction of hair stylists. evel 2 Credit 6 (for reference only) Competency Performance Requirements 1. Possess basic knowledge of hair cutting and blow-drying • Know about hair cutting basic knowledge of, including: • Sectioning (fringe, crown, the side part to the ear, hair ends, etc.) • The importance of analyzing customer's hair before hair cutting • Basic four sections (cross-shaped division) division line (horizontal line, A-line, V-line, etc.) • The actors affecting the hair cutting effect, e.g.: hair thickness (thick or thin), length, density, hair texture (curly or straight hair), hair growth pattern • Four basic cutting techniques, including: solid form, uniform, increase-layered form and graduated form • Know about the application, techniques and safety practice for using blow-drying tools • Know about the daily cleaning and blow-drying, e.g.: the importance of wind direction • Know about the daily cleaning and blow-drying, including: • Know about the daily cleaning and blow-drying tools • Know about the daily cleaning and blow-drying tools • Know about the daily cleaning and blow-drying tools • Know about the daily cleaning and blow-drying tool	Title	Help Perform Basic Hair Cutting and Blow-drying provide hair cutting and blow-drying service for customers under the instruction of hair stylists. evel 2 Credit 6 (for reference only) Competency Performance Requirements 1. Possess basic knowledge of hair cutting and blow-drying • Know about hair cutting basic knowledge of, including: • Sectioning (fringe, crown, the side part to the ear, hair ends, etc.) • The importance of analyzing customer's hair before hair cutting • Basic four sections (cross-shaped division) division line (horizontal line, A-line, V-line, etc.) • Factors affecting the hair cutting effect, e.g.: hair thickness (thick or thin), length, density, hair texture (curly or straight hair), hair growth pattern • Four basic cutting techniques, including: solid form, uniform, increase-layered form and graduated form • Know about the functions and correct use of different hair cutting tools/equipment, e.g.: scissors, shear, clipper, etc. • Know about the application, techniques and safety practice for using blow-drying tools • Know about the application, techniques and safety practice for using and blow-drying tools • Know about the daily cleaning and blow-drying, including: • Choose appropriate hair cutting and blow-drying tools • Know about the as combs, brahes, etc., correctly and employ basic hair cutting and blow-drying tools • Help perform basic hair cutting and blow-dr	Code	105364L2
Credit 6 (for reference only) Competency Performance Requirements 1. Possess basic knowledge of hair cutting and blow-drying • Know about hair cutting basic knowledge of, including: • Sectioning (fringe, crown, the side part to the ear, hair ends, etc.) • The importance of analyzing customer's hair before hair cutting • Basic four sections (cross-shaped division) division line (horizontal line, A-line, V-line, etc.) • Factors affecting the hair cutting effect, e.g.: hair thickness (thick or thin), length, density, hair texture (curly or straight hair), hair growth pattern • Four basic cutting techniques, including: solid form, uniform, increase-layered form and graduated form • Know about the tunctions and correct use of different hair cutting tools/equipment, e.g.: scissors, shear, clipper, etc. • Know about the application, techniques and safety practice for using blow-drying tools • Know about the application, techniques and safety practice for using blow-drying tools • Know about the daily cleaning and disinfect methods for different hair cutting and blow-drying tools • Choose appropriate hair cutting and blow-drying, including: • Choose appropriate hair cutting and blow-drying tools • Prepare tools required • Use tools such as combs, brushes, etc., correctly and employ basic hair cutting and blow-drying tools • Leto be such as combs, brushes, etc., correctly and employ basic hair cutting and blow-drying techniques under the instruction of hair stylists to cut four basic hairstyles for customers showing the cha	Range
Competency Performance Requirements 1. Possess basic knowledge of hair cutting and blow-drying • Know about hair cutting basic knowledge of, including: • Sectioning (fringe, crown, the side part to the ear, hair ends, etc.) • The importance of analyzing customer's hair before hair cutting • Basic four sections (cross-shaped division) division line (horizontal line, A-line, V-line, etc.) • Factors affecting the hair cutting effect, e.g.: hair thickness (thick or thin), length, density, hair texture (curly or straight hair), hair growth pattern • Four basic cutting techniques, including: solid form, uniform, increase-layered form and graduated form • Know about the functions and correct use of different hair cutting tools/equipment, e.g.: scissors, shear, clipper, etc. • Know about the functions and correct use of different styling products • Know about the application, techniques and safety practice for using blow-drying tools • Know about the dialy cleaning and disinfect methods for different hair cutting and blow-drying tools • Know about the daily cleaning and blow-drying, including: • Choose appropriate hair cutting and blow-drying tools • Prepare tools required • Use tools such as combs, brushes, etc., correctly and employ basic hair cutting and blow-drying tools • Prepare tools required • Use tools such as combs, brushes, etc., correctly and employ basic hair cutting and blow-drying tools or practice for personal and working hygiene 3. Exhibit professionalism • Comply with genereral safety rules	Level	2
 Possess basic knowledge of hair cutting and blow-drying Know about hair cutting basic knowledge of, including: Sectioning (fringe, crown, the side part to the ear, hair ends, etc.) The importance of analyzing customer's hair before hair cutting Basic four sections (cross-shaped division) division line (horizontal line, A-line, V-line, etc.) Factors affecting the hair cutting effect, e.g.: hair thickness (thick or thin), length, density, hair texture (curly or straight hair), hair growth pattern Four basic cutting techniques, including: solid form, uniform, increase-layered form and graduated form Know about the functions and correct use of different hair cutting tools/equipment, e.g.: scissors, shear, clipper, etc. Know about the application, techniques and safety practice for using blow-drying tools Know about the application, techniques and safety practice for using blow-drying tools Know about the daily cleaning and disinfect methods for different hair cutting and blow-drying tools Know about the daily cleaning and blow-drying, including: Choose appropriate hair cutting and blow-drying tools Prepare tools required Use tools such as combs, brushes, etc., correctly and employ basic hair cutting and blow drying tools or practice for personal and working hygiene Exhibit professionalism Comply with general safety rules when using hair cutting and blow-drying tools or operating equipment Assessment The integrated outcome requirements of this UoC are the abilities to: Apply basic knowledge of using hair cutting and blow-drying tools of operating eq	Credit	6 (for reference only)
 Criteria Apply basic knowledge of using hair cutting and blow-drying tools (methods of holding scissors, disinfect procedures, etc.) to help hair stylists make preparations safely for hair cutting and blow-drying; and Choose two out of four basic hairstyles, and apply basic knowledge and techniques of ha cutting and blow-drying to perform hair cutting and blow-drying for customers under the instruction of hair stylists according to codes of practice for personal and working hygien 	Competency	 Possess basic knowledge of hair cutting and blow-drying Know about hair cutting basic knowledge of, including:
	Assessment Criteria	 Apply basic knowledge of using hair cutting and blow-drying tools (methods of holding scissors, disinfect procedures, etc.) to help hair stylists make preparations safely for hair cutting and blow-drying; and Choose two out of four basic hairstyles, and apply basic knowledge and techniques of hair
	Remark	