1. Title	Implement preventive measures on general occupational safety and health
2. Code	EMCUSH212A
3. Range	Understand the characteristics and limitations of the workplace and take preventive measures on general occupational safety and health for occupational safety and avoid accidents in electrical and mechanical engineering workplaces.
4. Level	2
5. Credit	3
6. Competency	Performance Requirements
	 6.1 Protection for general occupational safety and health, and hazards that may occur, and to prevent accidents Occupational safety and health Understand the restrictions of electrical and mechanical engineering workplace, and follow the safety working procedures to take effective protection steps for the following:
7. Assessment Criteria	and health electrical and mechanical engineering works. Preventive measures include: • Eye protector • Ear protector • Safety belt • Chemical handling procedures • Environmental hygiene, etc. The integrated outcome requirement of this unit of competency is: (i) Under different conditions/environments, choose different working procedures and use appropriate preventive measures on occupational safety and health so as to comply with the legal requirements and work safety instructions.
8. Remarks	The credit value of this unit of competency is set on the presumption that the person already possesses basic occupational safety knowledge.