A model for recognising skills

What we do

What might the future look like?

"This 'telephone' has too many shortcomings to be seriously considered as a means of communication: The device is inherently of no value to us"

Western Union internal memo, 1876

"I think there is a world market for maybe five computers."

Thomas Watson, chairman of IBM, 1943

The benefits of qualifications

What does industry want?

- Job-ready graduates who can ‘hit the ground running’
- A blend of vocational and academic expertise
- Multi-skilled workers capable of greater autonomy
- An education and training system that meets their needs
