Specification of Competency Standards for the Jewellery Industry Unit of Competency

Functional Area - Design

Range This unit of competency is applicable to practitioners working in the jewellery design department of the jewellery industry. Practitioners should be capable of working in a familiar environment under supervision. They should know about the trend of jewellery design and the design characteristics in different periods, as well as the design features of contemporary design, so as to assist the supervisor in adopting a new direction for jewellery design. evel 2 Credit 6 Competency Performance Requirements 1. Understand the relation between art and design . Know what art is . Know about the history of art so as to understand the development process from the beginning of human history to modern aesthetics . The Know about the cape . The Know about each process, the development and the transformation in the history of art, such as: . . The Rococo Period . The Noted Pages . The Modern Times . The Nordeon Period . The Noted appreciation ability, cultivate the aesthetic concept and assist the supervisor in adopting a new direction for jewellery design . Professionalism . Respect intellectual property and avoid plagiarism, preventing individuals and the organization from falling into the trap of infringement of intellectual property rights	Title	Know about the trend and development of jewellery design of the jewellery industry. Practitioners should be capable of working in a familiar environment under supervision. They should know about the trend of jewellery design and the design characteristics in different periods, as well as the design features of contemporary design, so as to assist the supervisor in adopting a new direction for jewellery design. evel 2 Credit 6 Competency Performance Requirements 1. Understand the relation between art and design • Know what art is 1. Winderstand the history of art so as to understand the development process from the beginning of human history to modern aesthetics • Know about each process, the development and the transformation in the history of art, such as: • The Nicole Age • The Renaissance • The Rococo Period • The Nodern Times • The Rococo Period • The Nodern Times • The Rococo Period • The Nodern Times • The Robert Period • Know about the difference between design and art 2. Design jewellery • Master the trend and development of art and jewellery design, and know about the development of jewellery against the background of each period, so as to enhance the appreciation ability, cultivate the aesthetic concept and assist the supervisor in adopting a new direction for jewellery	Code	108875L2
Credit 6 Competency Performance Requirements 1. Understand the relation between art and design • Know about the history of art so as to understand the development process from the beginning of human history to modern aesthetics • Know about each process, the development and the transformation in the history of art, such as: • • The Stone Age • • The Roacoe Period • • The Roacoe Period • • The Nodern Times • • The Modern Period • • The Postmodern Period • • Know about the difference between design and art • Know about the difference between design and art • Know about the difference between design and art • Master the trend and development of art and jewellery design, and know about the development of jewellery design 3. Professionalism <td< td=""><td>Range</td><td>under supervision. They should know about the trend of jewellery design and the design characteristics in different periods, as well as the design features of contemporary design, so as</td></td<>	Range	under supervision. They should know about the trend of jewellery design and the design characteristics in different periods, as well as the design features of contemporary design, so as Competency Performance Requirements 1. Understand the relation between art and design • Know what art is • Know about the history of art so as to understand the development process from the beginning of human history to modern aesthetics • Know about each process, the development and the transformation in the history of art, such as: • The Stone Age • The Renaissance • The Rococo Period • The Nodern Times • The Nodern Times • The Rococo Period • The Nodern Times • The Postmodern Period • The Rococo Period • The Postmodern Period • The Postmodern Period • The Rococo Period • The Postmodern Period • Know about the common points in design and art 2. Know about the common points in design and art 2. Design jewellery • Master the trend and development of art and jewellery design, and know about the development of jewellery against the background of each period, so as to enhance the appreciation ability, cultivate the aesthetic concept and assist the supervisor in adopting a new direction for jewellery desi	Level	2
1. Understand the relation between art and design • Know what art is • Know about the history of art so as to understand the development process from the beginning of human history to modern aesthetics • Know about each process, the development and the transformation in the history of art, such as: • The Stone Age • The Middle Ages • The Renaissance • The Rococo Period • The Nictoria Period • The Notern Times • The Postmodern Period • Know about the difference between design and art • Know about the common points in design and art • Stow about the common points in design and art • Stow about the trend and development of art and jewellery design, and know about the development of iewellery against the background of each period, so as to enhance the appreciation ability, cultivate the aesthetic concept and assist the supervisor in adopting a new direction for jewellery design 3. Professionalism • Respect intellectual property and avoid plagiarism, preventing individuals and the organization from falling into the trap of infringement of intellectual property rights Assessment Criteria The integrated outcome requirement of this unit of competency is: • Able to understand the trend of jewellery design and the design characteristics in each period, as well as the design features of contemporary design, and identify the impact o external factors on art and the trend of jew	Credit	6
	Competency Assessment Criteria	 1. Understand the relation between art and design Know what art is Know about the history of art so as to understand the development process from the beginning of human history to modern aesthetics Know about each process, the development and the transformation in the history of art, such as: The Stone Age The Middle Ages The Renaissance The Rococo Period The Nodern Times The Postmodern Period Know about the difference between design and art Know about the common points in design and art Z. Design jewellery Master the trend and development of art and jewellery design, and know about the development of jewellery design Professionalism Respect intellectual property and avoid plagiarism, preventing individuals and the organization from falling into the trap of infringement of intellectual property rights The integrated outcome requirement of this unit of competency is: Able to understand the trend of jewellery design and the design characteristics in each period, as well as the design features of contemporary design, so as to assist the supervisor in adopting a new direction for jaining into the trap of infringement of intellectual property rights
	Remark	